

次の各英文の空欄に最も適するものを (a)~(d) から選べ。

1. When a river reaches the sea, it drops its remaining load at its mouth, () a triangular-shaped area called a delta.
(a) and build (b) building (c) be built (d) which build
2. Changes have taken place in many areas of national life, especially in () related to housing and employment.
(a) what (b) where (c) that (d) those
3. All body cells, (), must have a supply of oxygen and food and be capable of responding to directions from hormones and other controls.
(a) how they function (b) when their function
(c) whatever their function (d) and their function
4. Dragging the shopping bag up the third flight of stairs, () on the landing for moment.
(a) exhaustion forced Mrs. Gray to stop and sit down
(b) Mrs. Gray was forced by exhaustion to stop and sit down
(c) it was exhaustion that forced Mrs. Gray to stop to sit down
(d) exhaustion worked what forced Mrs. Gray to stop sitting down
5. () for mathematical precision been more apparent than in the field of computer technology.
(a) The need has nowhere (b) Nowhere has the need
(c) No need has anywhere (d) Never has the need anywhere
6. More of the students are coming to realize that an education at a public university can be ().
(a) as good, if not better, than an elite private college
(b) as good, if not better, as one at an elite private college
(c) as good as, if not better than, one at an elite private college
(d) as good as, if not better than one at an elite private college
7. Although potatoes are rich in food value than any other vegetable, they are not always a wise choice for a garden crop because they need a considerable amount of room. () they can be more economically grown on farms.
(a) Finally (b) Similarly (c) Additionally (d) Consequently
8. Nothing the commentators have said so far has caught my fancy, () warmed my heart; or, I am glad to say, shocked me to the core.
(a) much more (b) still less (c) so little (d) rather than

