

【正解】

1. (She kept silent), which made him more angry.
2. (Selecting a school in America is not easy because there are so many to choose from. Parents must) collect as much information as possible on which base (their decision).
3. (I decided to spend some months in America) so that I could experience the daily life of different families.
4. (The effects of the technological revolution) we are living through will be (deeper than any change we have experienced so far).
5. (In the crowded bus she was) robbed of what little money she had. (all 不要)
6. It is worth while considering what it is (that makes people happy).
7. It is up to you to decide whether you join our club (or not).
8. (Courage is a quality that people are expected to have. Perhaps that is) the reason why we don't respect those who don't have it.